Community Research

Introduction: Policy context: Human resources in R&D

- Mobility of researchers across the 33 countries associated to the FP is a condition to make the European Research Area (ERA) functioning.
- Europe needs to build excellent research careers and link them to EU research initiatives.
 - From the traditional concept of “brain drain” versus “brain gain” to the acknowledgement of the fact that excellent science careers are international - “brain circulation or “brain exchange”.
 - From a “Mobility” programme to an active “career development” programme acquiring additional qualifications and targeted trainings through transnational mobility.

EUROPEAN

Significant Budget increase

*The “people” programme will receive 4,7 bn € under FP7
over 7 years*

How to cope with this budget increase:

- Administration: Outsourcing of the People Programme into an executive agency: More staff to follow the individual contracts – better response
- From individual fellowships to co-funding of programmes: More structural impact

Community Research

1. People – Marie Curie Actions

4,7 Billion € in FP7 for 7 years

- Guiding Principles:

- Continuity of FP6,
- with focus on structuring impact
- increased private sector participation
- Strengthened international dimension
- Balanced gender objective, also reintegration
- No thematic priorities

People – Marie Curie Actions

FP7 € 4,7 billion:

Initial training:

- Networks for Early stage researchers

Life long training and career development:

- Intra European Fellowships
- European Reintegration Grants
- Co-funding of national programmes

Industry dimension:

- Industry-academia partnership and pathways

International dimension:

- Outgoing fellowships

Community Resea

Initial training: Marie Curie Networks for early stage training

- Trans-national network with joint training programmes, coherent quality standards and mutual recognition of training/diplomas
- Allowances for “early-stage” researchers and « visiting scientists » positions; Short training events (conferences, summer schools, training courses), also open to researchers from outside the network
- Direct or indirect involvement of private business sector

Life-long training & career development: Marie Curie fellowships for career development

In two modes

1. Traditional mode: selection/funding of fellows through call at EC level
2. New « Co-funding » mode:
 - Selection for « co-funding » of national, regional and international programmes through open calls with clear evaluation criteria (no country quota)
 - Minimal conditions for programmes: trans-national ; selection of fellows based on peer review; minimum social security coverage
 - Researchers apply to the co-funded national programmes; programmes operate following own standards
 - Community funding: % of fellowship costs of trans-national researchers; contribution to overhead costs

Community Res

Marie Curie Industry partnerships and pathways

- Enhance sustainable cooperation between both sectors on joint project
- 2-way staff secondments / hosting of experienced researchers from outside the partnership
- Organisation of workshops/conferences, including for researchers from outside the partnership
- Special measure: equipment costs for SMEs

Community Res

Marie Curie International dimension 1

Two action lines:

1. Career development/life-long training for EU researchers :

- Outgoing individual fellowships, with return fellowship
- Return and reintegration for European researchers abroad

Community Research

Marie Curie International dimension 2

- 2. International co-operation through researchers from 3rd countries :
 - All Marie Curie host driven actions open to 3d country nationals
 - Incoming individual fellowships to Europe with optional return for researchers from less developed economies
 - In preparation: Staff exchange scheme
 - Specific actions to remove obstacles and enhancing career perspectives

Community Research

Staff exchange scheme

In preparation

- Co-funding of exchange programmes with Europe of 3rd countries

FAQ

What is a researcher? European Commission defines roles and responsibilities

The Commission of the European Communities

The European Commission has adopted a European Charter for Researchers and a Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers. These two documents, addressed to researchers as well as to employers and funders in both the public and private sectors, are key elements in the European Union's policy to make research an attractive career, which is a vital feature of its strategy to stimulate economic and employment growth.

Giving individual researchers the same rights and obligations wherever they may work throughout the European Union should help counter the fact that research careers in Europe are fragmented at local, regional, national or sectoral level, and allow Europe to make the most of its scientific potential.

In particular, the European Charter for Researchers addresses the roles, responsibilities and entitlements of researchers and their employers or funding organisations. It aims at ensuring that the relationship between these parties contributes to successful performance in the generation, transfer and sharing of knowledge, and to the career development of researchers.

The Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers aims to improve recruitment, to make selection procedures fairer and more transparent and proposes different means of judging merit: Merit should not just be measured on the number of publications but on a wider range of evaluation criteria, such as teaching, supervision, teamwork, knowledge transfer, management and public awareness activities.

4.3. "Scientific visa"

- A European Directive (adopted by Council October 2005) to set up a specific procedure for admitting third-country researchers coming into Europe to carry out a research project.
- The main concept is to create a specific residence permit for foreign researchers independently from their contractual status (employee, self-employed, "stipendee").
- In the new system, a non-EU researcher wishing to carry out a research project in Europe will have to sign a "hosting agreement" with an accredited public or private European research organisation.
